SILVER AND WHEAT.

The charge has been repeatedly made by ignorant persons or by those who willfully attempt to deceive that silver miners alone are interested in the remonetization of silver. This charge was answered long since by Senator Stewart, who showed the relations existing between silver and wheat and other products of the farm and demonstrated very clearly that the low price of the metal was the cause of the low price of wheat.

The exact facts and figures bearing on the relation between silver and wheat have been compiled by Colonel J. D. Hooper of Colorado, and the Denver News comments upon the statement as follows:

"It is a well known fact that the low price of American wheat is due to the competition with wheat grown in India. How is this competition brought about? We will see. The English merchant buys an ounce of silver in America for say 85 cents. This he coins into India rupees which are worth 138 cents, and he has thus made a profit of 53 cents on his ounce of silver. If what is worth in India say 92 cents a bushel, he can buy with his silver rupees one and a half bushels of wheat, the actual cost to him being only the 85 cents he paid for his ounce of silver. This is why India wheat can be placed on the Liverpool market in competition with the American product, and were this not possible there would be a demand for at least 50,000,000 more bushels of American wheat, and not only for this, but for the amount now exported a better price would be obtained.

"Under free coinage the English merchant would be obliged to pay $1.20 an ounce for silver, and the margin of difference in the ratio of coinage would not permit the importation of India wheat to England. These facts explain why it is that British financiers are so bitterly opposed to free coinage. By depressing the price of silver in the United States they can stimulate wheat growing in India, discourage American imports, and realize a handsome profit for themselves at the same time, all at the expense of the American farmer and the American miner.

"Shall this thing be allowed to continue? The question is the real issue of the campaign. Republican orators express great solicitude lest the American manufacturer may be brought into competition with the English manufacturer; but these same men are entirely willing that the American farmer and the American miner shall be ruined, the latter by the low price of silver, which results from demonetization, and the farmer by the competition in India wheat, which demonetization renders possible. Out on such inconsistent hypocrisy."

WALL STREET ROWDIES.

At Columbus, Georgia, on the evening of the 23d instant, about one thousand people assembled to hear General Weaver. The Columbus Journal, a subsidized Wall Street organ, published an article in its local columns charging him with appropriating provisions belonging to private citizens for the use of the army and refugees. General Weaver denied the charge, stating that he gave vouchers for all private property condemned for public use, and that the vouchers were honored and paid by the Government. A reporter, said to have been hired for the purpose by Wall Street agents, stated that he had affidavits to prove the allegation and great confusion ensued. The hired rowdy was finally ejected from the hall and General Weaver and Mrs. Lease addressed the audience.

It is to be deplored by every lover of liberty and free speech that a few blackguards, hired by gold bugs for the occasion, are permitted to create the impression that free speech is this enlightened age is not tolerated in Georgia, which has the reputation of being one of the most progressive of the Southern States. Every good citizen, whether North or South, regrets the occurrence and denounces the publicists who were responsible for it.

The fact is that General Weaver is arousing the people of the South on the financial question to such an extent that the gold men fear him and instigated their agents to break up his meetings. In an address to the nation General Weaver calls attention to the manner in which he was treated at two or three places in Georgia, and directs special attention to the fact that the disorder is almost exclusively confined to young rowdies who are incited to blackguardism by persons who keep under cover. The country people, he says, are uniformly respectful and many of them openly denounce the outrages.

Massachusetts Democrats in convention assembled yesterday declared against free coinage and demands the repeal of the Act of 1890 authorizing the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver monthly.

Canady's Suicide.

WASHINGTON, September 27.—Wm. P. Canady of North Carolina, ex-Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, suicided here this morning by shooting himself through the head. He had been in financial troubles for some time.

Canady occupied rooms at 712 and 714 Kent street as lodging and office quarters, where, in partnership with Col. J. Q. A. Houghton, he conducted the business of loaning money on securities such as the banks refused to handle, and was launching a company to guarantee patents.

The first scene in the tragedy was about daylight this morning, when a gentleman rooming above was attracted to Canady's doors by the latter's cries. He found Canady bound and gagged, and the latter claimed that this was the work of burglars who had forced him to open the safe and take out its contents.

When Col. Houghton arrived he told Canady he did not believe the story and thought it was a ruse to cover a theft by Canady of $2,000 which Houghton put in the safe the previous evening. Houghton then went out to get a policeman. When he returned he found Canady lying dead with a bullet hole through his head.

The body was removed to an undertaker's rooms and an inquest will be held. On the desk, written on a large envelope, was the following note to Miss Moore: "MY DEAR FRIEND:—I am not guilty of any wrong. You may trust in me. People who are persecuting me are worse than I am. He is a villain of the very largest kind. God bless you always, is the last prayer of your true friend, CANADY."

The note was addressed to Captain Houghton, and said after Houghton's conduct this morning he (Canady) had no future use for life.

The tragedy is the climax to a decade of wild and adventurous speculation in projects of a hazardous kind in the hope, always delusive, that each successive scheme would bring him large wealth.

Police are investigating the statement of Captain Houghton that he put $2,000 in the safe yesterday. How Canady could have made away with it is, under the circumstances, a difficult question to answer. Miss Moore, whom Canady visited last evening and to whom he left a note, is a young lady of excellent family and of good reputation whom Col. Canady knew in North Carolina. She lives here with a married sister. Canady's call was a brief social one.

O'Brien and Holmes Rescued.

MARSHFIELD, Or., September 27.—After ten days of suffering from cold and hunger, and the probability of filling a watery grave, Captain O'Brien and his watchman, Wm. Holmes, were rescued from the whalesback steamer, Wetmore, this afternoon, by Captain Bergman and the Umpqua life saving crew. A week after the crew had been taken off the wreck, Captain O'Brien and his watchman went aboard the vessel during a calm to prevent parties from boarding her and claiming salvage. A storm came on, and for the last ten days all efforts of the life saving crew to rescue the shipwrecked men were futile and it seemed certain that they must perish. The sea was not running so high as yesterday, yet it was a hard struggle for the rescuers to reach the vessel. After several hours' work they put a line aboard which Captain O'Brien and Holmes tied about their waists and jumped into the sea and the life crew pulled them safely to shore. The men were almost worn out from exposure. For the last five days the men have lived upon one scant meal a day and this morning they devoured the last biscuit. Their suffering from cold was terrible and for two days they stood in the water up to the waist and spray dashed over their bodies. The wharf at Empire was crowded today when the men came ashore and the greatest interest in caring for their wants, was taken by the citizens of that place. The weather side of the Wetmore's main cabin is stove in and the vessel will undoubtedly prove a total loss.

Caught Their Man.

CARSON, September 27.—Deputy Sheriff Patterson and Raycraft who were sent out two days ago to bring one Walter Barth to Carson, have returned with their man. Barth was wanted for burglary and horse stealing. When found he was on the stolen horse and was heavily armed with 44-calibre revolver, and was caught near Placerville, Cal. He is alleged to be the person who has been committing various robberies around Carson.

Murdered Three Children.

BARDENTOWN, N. J., September 27.—Lena Schmitt, a German woman of this place, this afternoon murdered three small children. One victim was her own son, and the others, two little sons of a neighbor, William Bowker. The children were from one to three years old. The woman, who is believed to be insane, could not tell why she murdered the children.

New York, September 27.—The State Senate Committee investigating the Reading combine, decided to report to the Attorney General that under the State law the Reading allies in this State had no right to combine to control prices and recommending such action as may seem advisable.

Died of His Injuries.

Bursted a Blood Vessel.

Boston, September 27.—At Myatic Park today in the 2-30 race Midnight Chimes, a black filly owned by C. J. Hamlin, burst a blood vessel and fell dead. She was valued at $25,000.

Property Among Ants and Bees.

The collective system of property must have lasted among ants and bees for many thousands of years, for, apart from cases of demoralization such as may, for example, be produced among bees by giving them a taste for drunkenness, these intelligent insects show the most absolute deference and devotion to social property. Their primitive selfishness has broadened out into a collective or patriotic egotism. But these very social species, with their more than Christian charity, have not reached this high degree of civilization at one bound. In the ant and bee worlds, as in our own, there are savages. There are still at the present time certain species of ants ignorant of the division of labor carried so far among their civilized congeners. "Property: Its Origin and Development."

Sportive Lambs.

A flock of ewes and lambs were once observed in adjoining fields, separated by a fence with several gaps in it. "Follow my leader" was the game most in favor with this flock, the biggest lamb leading around the field and then jumping the gap, with all the others following in single file. Any lamb that took the leap unusually well would give two or three more enthusiastic jumps out of sheer exuberant happiness when it reached the other side. The game played a sort of cross touch from one side to the other, the "touch" in each case being by the nose.—London Tit-Bits.

The Colors of Amber.

Amber has a wonderful variety of colors. Some of it is as clear as crystal, some as yellow as honey, some light blue and again a transparent green. Then it is found as white as snow, the color of cream, and often many of these tints are blended in one piece. There is a popular notion to the effect that amber has curative qualities for such ailments as cramp and sore throat, and many thousand necklaces of it are sold annually for that purpose.—Interview in Washington Star.

How to Conciliate an Editor. "You look awful blue. What is the matter with you?" "That editor has sent back my last batch of poems. I wish I knew how to get his goat well."

"That's easy enough done." "How can I do it to put him in good humor?" "Don't send him any more of your poetry."—Texas Sittings.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly bumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimple, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors"; which, when running upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for the disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula some neck from the time she was 20 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARROLL, Waukegan, Ill.

N. B. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla sold by all druggists. 50c per bottle. Prepared only by H. C. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass. Beware of cheap imitations.

STEWART ON THE STUMP.

He Opens the Campaign in Reno—The Opera House Packed Full.

Boulevards blazed in the streets last evening, Hastings' Brave Bard discoursed patriotic airs and the side walks were crowded with people venturing their way to the Opera House where

HON. W. M. STEWART
Went to open the campaign with a speech on the political issues of the day. The spacious Opera House was crowded, many ladies gracing the scene with their presence. Hon. Geo. S. Nixon, Chairman of the State Central Committee of the Silver party of Nevada, announced the following list of Vice Presidents: W. O. H. Martin, B. S. Osburn, Judge Webber, Hon. Thomas Wren, J. B. McCullough, G. H. Taylor, Richard Ryland, F. G. Newlands, C. C. Powning, E. L. Kelley, B. F. Lee, C. A. Norcross, N. J. Evans, W. H. A. Pike, A. D. Griffin, I. B. Marshall, J. L. Wines, J. P. Fouke, Benj. Currier, Wm. Thompson, L. J. Flint, T. V. Jallen, R. H. Kinney and George H. Peckham, nearly all of whom took seats on the platform.

The Silver Quartette sang a new campaign song which alluded to local statesmen in a manner that brought down the house. The quartette is composed of excellent vocalists, and their rendering of songs adapted to the situation was a feature of the evening.

When Chairman Nixon introduced Senator Stewart as a man who had been honored by Nevada in the past and would be again there was loud applause, and standing room was at a premium. He spoke about an hour and a quarter and made many telling points, which the audience appreciated and applauded. He said we can't vote for Harrison or Cleveland and favor free coinage, as both those gentlemen are committed against it. The silver producing States can accomplish much by

UNITED ACTION
They hold the balance of power in the Senate to-day, as they did in the House of Representatives last session, and if they would use it independently of party and to further the silver cause they could accomplish much. Determined silver men could attach a free coinage clause to every appropriation bill and by persistence force the President to sign it. He instanced the case of the Home Rule members of the House of Commons as proof of what minorities could do when united and determined. He said the Force bill was a gold trust measure to punish the South for its advocacy of free coinage. It was designed to change our form of government to a despotism in which the people would have neither voice nor vote. It was passed through the House by six majority, men who left the friends of silver and joined the gold trust in its efforts to crush them. His action and that of his colleague, Senator Jones in voting against this bill was commended by the Legislature of Nevada.

CONDEMNING HARRISON.
The Senator read the platform adopted by the R-pub-lican State Convention at Virginia City last Spring. It condemned Harrison's administration, and pledged Nevada to vote for silver men only. He followed the course then mapped out by the united R-pub-lican party of Nevada in convention assembled, and now he, not Harrison, is denounced. He does not know of anything Harrison has done since the 30th of last April to endear him to silver men. He went further than the Minneapolis platform, in his letter of acceptance, against silver, and stands opposed to any legislation tending toward free coinage, unless by and with the consent of Europe.

RECIPROCITY IN LEGISLATION.
The Senator said much might be accomplished by reciprocity in legislation. He believed in staying by the friends of silver, and the South and West, by united action, could achieve victory beyond question. We wanted an active, aggressive man in the House of Representatives, and we would have just such a man in Mr. Newlands, who, no doubt, would be elected by a large majority.

The speech throughout, of which the JOURNAL does not give even a mere synopsis, bristled with facts and was well received by the audience. At the close the Silver Quartette sang "I've Got Him on the List," which contained local hits, which brought down the house.

The Senator left for Elko on last night's train and will speak in Elko to-night and at Wadsworth to-morrow (Thursday) night.

Familiar Accident.

Mrs. J. S. Burlingame was called to Eureka yesterday by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. I. O. C. Whitmore. Not long since Mrs. Whitmore lost a tiny piece of the end of her little finger and thought nothing of the occurrence. The same evening, feeling some pain in the wound, she applied ordinary applications, but the pain increased to such an extent that a physician was called in next day to examine the out. He prescribed poultices and his prescription was followed for the next two or three days. At the end of that time the pain was unbearable and Mr. Whitmore insisted upon a more searching examination. The doctor found that the flesh upon the finger was perfectly dead as far up as the hand and found it was necessary to amputate it. This was done but the pain then spread to the arm as far as the shoulder and Mrs. Whitmore has suffered excruciating agony. It may be that taking off the arm will save the lady's life, but there was little hope of her recovery.—News.

ADDRESS TO THE NATION.

General Weaver Says Young Rowdies Incited by Politicians Caused the Trouble in Georgia.

General James B. Weaver, the People's candidate for President of the United States, issued the following address to the nation:

ATLANTA, Ga., September 23d.
To Mr. R. D. Irvin, Chairman State Committee People's Party, Atlanta. DEAR SIR:—At the urgent request of your committee I entered this State on the 20th instant for the purpose of addressing the people of Georgia upon the political situation and the issues involved in the present national campaign.

The places named for said meeting were: Waycross, Albany, Columbus, Macon, Atlanta, Madison, Augusta and Elberton. I find the spirit of organized rowdism at some of the points visited within the State so great as to render it inadvisable for me to attempt to fill the engagements at the points not already reported.

PERSONAL VIOLENCE.
Personal indignity was threatened at Waycross, but was suppressed by the attendance of a large number of our friends and the careful management of Mr. Reed, the local chairman.

At Albany we met a howling mob, which refused to accord us a respectable and uninterrupted hearing. Our meeting at Columbus was a grand success, thanks to the superior management of Mr. C. J. Thornton. About 3,000 people attended this meeting and gave us respectful and enthusiastic attention.

MRS. WEAVER STRUCK.
At Macon, the conduct of the mob which greeted our advent into the city was simply disgraceful beyond description.

BOTTEN EGGS WERE THROWN prior to the introduction of the speaker, one of which struck Mrs. Weaver on the head.

Eggs were thrown repeatedly during the continuance of the meeting, the crowd continuing to howl until past midnight.

MOB AT ATLANTA.
At Atlanta a similar crowd of rowdies gathered at the point of meeting, bent on tumult and disorder.

Learning of this Mrs. Weaver and myself refused to appear, either in the forenoon or in the evening. I am convinced that similar treatment awaits us at the points not visited.

I decline to meet such appointments. The members of our party although apparently largely in the majority in the State, are unable to secure for us a peaceful and respectful hearing.

ROWDIES INCITED BY POLITICIANS.
I wish to call special attention to the fact that the disorder is almost exclusively confined to young rowdies who infect the towns and who are incited to violence by persons who keep in the background. The country people are uniformly respectful. It is especially worthy of note that the disrespect does not proceed from these people. The police force at these disorderly points named made no efforts at resistance.

I think it is but fair to say that many people, who are not in sympathy with the People's party, openly denounce these outrages, but they seem powerless to assert themselves.

The mayor of Waycross made every effort to protect our meeting at that point.

J. B. WEAVER.

STOREY COUNTY SILVER CONVENTION.

A Strong Ticket Placed in the Field.
The Storey County Silver Convention adopted resolutions pledging its support to Weaver and Field, the only candidates for President and Vice President who stand upon a free coinage platform, to Wm. M. Stewart, the standard bearer of free coinage, and untiring friend of our industries, for United States Senator, and to Francis G. Newlands for Representative in Congress, in recognition of the services he has rendered the silver cause throughout the whole country.

The following ticket was nominated: State Senator, Colonel E. D. Boyle; Assemblymen, Wilson Locklin, James Langen Frank Monaghan, A. L. Larnabart, Henry T. Carah and George Smith; Sheriff, James Quirk; District Attorney, Dennis Kehos; County Clerk and Treasurer, George Hatch; Recorder, John M. Kelly; Public Administrator, H. S. Beck; County Surveyor, Thomas H. Smith; County Commissioners, William Kemp and R. Chatelain.

The ticket is said to be a strong one and there is no doubt of its election.

Will Not Ride in the Carson Bicycle Races.

Inasmuch as the bicycle races to be held at Carson during the week are not sanctioned by the League of American Wheelmen Racing Board, the rules of which are such that a member thereof participating in any race not sanctioned by that body is liable to expulsion, Prof. N. E. Wilson, who won the State championship last week at the State Fair and who is a member of the League of American Wheelmen, will not ride in the Carson races.

The State Fair Directors, as also the Riverside Wheelmen, had the sanction of the league for the races here last week.

Eyes and Ears Open and you will see and hear many things to your advantage. With open eyes you cannot fail to see the advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator, and with ears open you will constantly hear of the relief it gives millions who suffer with Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation or Bilioussness. A dose now and then and you'll not know anything about Malaria, that miserable, tired-out feeling.

Fire in Australia.

In wet weather it is usual for the Australian aborigine to carry in the hand, beneath the kangaroo skin, a piece of smoldering wood, which communicates the bearer in some sort for the want of a flannel waistcoat, and enables him to light a fire at a moment's notice.

One of our men had also a plan on cold nights of lying down, rolled up in his furs, upon the sides of a raked out area. He explained to my husband that the advantage of thus going to bed was twofold, being no less good for warmth than for concealment, especially when passing the night in a strange place, where the keeping up of a fire after dark might attract the notice of unfriendly natives.

Each tribe possesses a territory of its own, and each family of the tribe has its own special tract of land within that territory. Here a man can light his fire and build his hut without fear of molestation. It is in fact his paternal estate, so that the word "fire" conveys to an Australian the same meaning of fatherland or birthplace as the word "hearth" conveys to a European, and is used by the aborigines in the same sense.—Mrs. Millett.

The yellow day lily is not as common as it deserves to be. The flowers are of a clear canary yellow and the foliage is very luxuriant.

Still Growing.

A glance at the map of Powning's Addition shows that with but very few exceptions all of the most eligible lots have been sold. Along the entire river front, or Riverside Avenue, there are only three corners left, while on Second street there are but four that are not sold. People wonder how it happens, but Reno keeps on growing just the same, and those who are still hunting bargains should buy a lot in Powning's Addition while lots are yet reasonable.
